DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-40, drawn to a molecular sensing apparatus, classified in class 422, subclass 82.01.
  - II. Claims 41-72, drawn to methods of making apparatus, classified in class 422, subclass 68.1.
  - III. Claims 73-165, drawn to methods of analyte detection, classified in class 435, subclass 4.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions in Group II and in Group I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product may be made by using a charge attraction method to place the biological molecule as in Group II or by direct deposition of the biological molecule onto the electrodes, or by preattaching the biological molecule to an electrode, then subsequently synthesizing the remainder of the device.
3. Inventions in Group I and in Group III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product can be used for detection of biological molecules or for purification of biological molecules from mixed samples.

4. Inventions in Group II and in Group III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are unrelated because the method of making of Group II differs in operation, function and effect from the method of using of Group III, with the method of Group II resulting in a particular apparatus while the method of Group III will result in detecting a molecule.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Also, because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to Adrienne Antler on July 20, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
